Jesus

One Solitary Life

He was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant. He grew up in another village, where He worked in a carpenter shop until he was 30. Then, for three years, He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family or owned a home. He did not go to school. He never lived in a big city. He never traveled 200 miles from the place where He was born. He did none of those things we normally associate with greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

While He was still a young man, the tide of public opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies and went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a wooden cross between two thieves. While He was dying on the cross, His executioners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth, and that was his coat. When He was dead, He was buried in a borrowed grave through the mercy of a friend.

Three days after His death, His tomb was found empty. He had risen from the dead and appeared to His disciples and told them not to be afraid. Before ascending into heaven He commanded His disciples to go into the entire world and proclaim the Good News to all.
